

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to a piezoelectrical device whose electrode layers contain copper. The usage of copper in electrode layers is enabled by a debinding process,
5 which is carried out by steam.

09736266-054504
T05T50-99292/60